

LIVE REMOTE VIDEO SURVEILLANCE

AVM is the leader in remote video surveillance monitoring. We proactively respond to threats using live Monitoring Agents and state-of-the-art equipment to increase business security and better protect your assets.

Stop crime before it happens

Traditional video surveillance systems are only effective after a crime is committed. Instead of just recording what happens, US-based AVM Monitoring Agents actively monitor your real-time camera feeds and assess each unique situation with a practiced eye. If a potential threat is identified, the Monitoring Agent will attempt to deter the perpetrator by speaking to them through our integrated on-premise audio system and escalate to local law enforcement if needed.

The virtual monitoring difference

Our three step proactive enforcement process is proven to deter criminals.

- 1 US-based Monitoring Agents actively monitor your cameras, looking for events in need of enforcement.
- 2 When a threat is identified, Monitoring Agents use the integrated on-premise audio system to announce that the perpetrator is being recorded and to vacate the premises.
- 3 If the perpetrator does not comply, local law enforcement is notified immediately.

92% of perpetrators comply with AVM Monitoring Agents. Only 8% of situations require involvement from law enforcement.

Decades of law enforcement expertise

AVM was founded by former police officers and maintains a great working relationship with local law enforcement. Police departments around the country respect AVM's reputation and know when they receive a call from AVM Monitoring Agents, the threat is active and legitimate. Fast police response times mean that suspects can be apprehended in record time.

No motion alerts and no false positives

Traditional security systems are reactive. They typically wait for a trigger to sound an alarm and alert the police AFTER criminals are already on your property. This often results in false calls, delayed police response time, and a greater opportunity for criminals to get away. AVM Monitoring Agents do not use event-based alerts, it is live people monitoring every camera feed 24/7. Real people, speaking in real time, using human discernment to enforce property rules.

More reliable than traditional guards

Improperly trained Security guards can be expensive liabilities, as they are often not invested in their work. AVM's Monitoring Agents can monitor many areas of your property simultaneously, removing the need for multiple guards, and saving you money.

A new way to think about security

- Costs 70% less than hiring security guards
- One low monthly fee with no hidden costs
- Always on 24/7 365
- Monitor multiple areas simultaneously
- Faster police response times
- Keeps your staff safe
- Video backups of all incidents
- Monitor feeds from any computer or smartphone

The average business cuts security costs by more than 70% by switching to AVM virtual monitoring
